Learning and Teaching By Doing: Sportsmanship
by Glenn Brunkow

Leave it to adults to mess up a good, fun kid’s activity. What activity am I talking about? Take your pick: sports, livestock shows, music competitions; I have even seen it in peddle pull contests. We adults go way beyond coaching, supporting, and chaperoning; we take over. We have to get involved and take all of the fun out of it.

We treat each game like it is the final game of the World Series and we view our kids as the next Michael Jordan. Often adults stand to the side of a youth event and argue and complain about either the coaching, the umpiring, or in the worst cases, the other youth. We do all of this instead of doing what we should, which is be encouraging, supportive, responsible adults and enjoying the moment. Please don’t think I am absolving myself of any of this; I am as guilty as anyone of being that overzealous parent.

I have seen all of this from three unique perspectives: as paid staff/a volunteer coach; as an official/judge; and an involved (and at times over involved) parent. My wish for everyone is that they could see the world of youth activities from each of these vantage points. I promise it will change the way you view youth activities. Let me share with you some observations I have made.

Youth become involved in activities for one of three reasons: 1) they enjoy the activity; 2) their friends are involved in the activity; and 3) we parents push them to become involved in said activity. I hope if your kids stay involved in anything it is a combination of the first two reasons and not the third. It is OK to push your kids to try different sports and activities, but we parents must recognize that our kids may not have the same talents and interests as we do. It is hard to admit that something we enjoy just may not be something our kids like.

2016-2017 4-H Program Fees

The Sponsoring Committee works hard each year to raise funds to help support the Kings County 4-H program. Their fundraising is via a mail campaign. For the 2016-2017 4-H Club year, the Sponsoring Committee has decided to supplement each 4-H members and leaders program fees.

The 2016-2017 4-H Program Fees will be:

- $10.00 per leader (instead of $14.00)
- $30.00 per member (instead of $38.00)

Funds are available for fee waivers for those members who need assistance with the program fees. A fee waiver form must be completed and submitted to the UCCE Office for approval. Click here for information about the fee waiver.

We are forever indebted to the wonderful contribution the Kings County 4-H Sponsoring Committee makes to the well-being of the 4-H Program.

An Emerald Star project is a great way to boost your leadership skills while providing assistance to the Kings County 4-H Program and/or the community. The Emerald Star Committee that conducts the interviews appreciates projects that are fresh and new. An Emerald Star project may focus on a specific project area or even community service. Kings Fair Show Attire

The Kings Fair has established their own set of rules for show attire. The following is an excerpt from the Kings Fair Rules.

Show Attire: Every 4-H Club member must wear the Kings Fair 4-H uniform while showing their animals. This uniform consists of 4-H cap worn on head, white pants, white shirt, and tie/collar and closed in shoes. All shirts/blouses must have a collar. Tank tops or sleeveless shirts are not allowed.

Whites Exchange

UCCE Office

Are you in need of white pants or shirts to show at the Kings Fair? There is a supply of whites available to any 4-H member. Come by the UCCE Office and see what is available. Try them on and take whatever fits.

Do you have whites that you no longer need? Bring them to the UCCE Office to be added to the supply.

The 4-H Hat

The 4-H hat says a lot about the person wearing it. The hat serves as a “trophy case” showcasing the many awards that have been earned.

A 4-H hat should be clean, and well cared for. The stars and stripes should be securely attached to the hat, preferably stitched on. Be sure to fill out that inside label with your name and vital information, incase your hat is misplaced at an event. When exhibiting animals, the hat should be worn on your head and not stuffed into your pants pocket.

For more information on 4-H hat etiquette, visit: 4-H Hat Etiquette

To be eligible for a medal, Juniors must have at least 4 communications, Intermediates must have 7 and Seniors must have 10 in the project area they are competing. Communications are defined on the PDR and are more than giving presentations. They include prepared talks, radio and television, newspaper articles, letters, representing 4-H etc.

Leaders: Your help is needed in judging Record Books!

1. Record Book Medal Judging: You may become qualified to judge the complete Record Book for RB medals by watching the Evaluators Orientation Video and taking the quiz. You may do this at home, no need to attend a meeting. Record Book Judging Course

2. Project Medal Judging: You may become qualified to judge the Annual Report Form for Project medals by viewing a power point posted soon on the Kings Co. 4-H website and taking a brief quiz. This is a very easy way to help with RB judging, and anyone can easily complete this portion.

Learning and Teaching By Doing: Sportsmanship (continued)

Sports are a recreational activity; recreational activities are something we do for fun. Don’t take the fun out of sports. One thing I have told my kids is that when a sport ceases to be fun, it needs to cease. I am all for learning how to play the game, learning the fundamentals and finer points, and most of all to have an appreciation for the sport. All of this makes the game more enjoyable. As parents and coaches we need to make sure it is still fun.

Kids look to their parents and coaches as role models and they will follow our lead. I know, this is not exactly an earth shattering observation but it is one we need to be reminded of. Our ethics and sportsmanship directly influence the youth around us. We need to promote the idea of honesty and fair play above all else. This has even greater implications in the livestock show ring where our actions and our children’s actions can directly influence our livelihoods.

The idea of being a good teammate and team first has eroded through the years. I suppose we can thank professional athletics for this. The focus on the super star and winning above loyalty has made their way down into youth sports. There needs to be a level of dedication to the team and to the team’s success above one’s personal achievement. We seem to value a “me first,” “look at me,” and “take care of yourself at all costs” mindset. It seems to me that we lose a lot when there is no loyalty to a team or teammates.

Finally, there is far more good in youth sports and activities than bad. I look back at my experiences in sports, 4-H, and FFA fondly. I learned a lot in those activities that have benefited me as an adult. I hope when my children are adults they will look back at their involvement the same way. I also know that I enjoy watching my children participate far more than I enjoyed my own participation. There lies the danger.

We must take a long, hard look at ourselves in the mirror and ask if we are doing all of this for the right reason and in the right way. If we falter in any way with our answer then we must take a step back. Finally, please remember, as a responsible adult, to put the focus on positive development and keep fun as a focus in all youth events at all times. If we do that, true success will follow.
New Countywide Project!

Science Education

We're experimenting with a new project! We will complete three meetings of two hours each during this 4-H year. Members may attend all three for a completed project, or individual meetings as Science Field Days. If there is enough interest in the project this year, there will be meetings throughout the 2016-2017 4-H Year on a bi-monthly basis.

Who can participate?

This project is open to all regular 4-H members, but the project will be geared around learning activities that can be shared with others; therefore, we particularly encourage members who are Junior Leader age and older to consider joining the project and to share the activities with others.

University of California
Agriculture and Natural Resources  4-H Youth Development Program
June is Men’s Health Month and every year Men’s Health Week is celebrated in the week leading up to and including Father’s Day. The purpose of Men’s Health Month is to increase awareness of preventable health problems and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys.

Get Regular Check-ups.

Did you know men are half as likely to visit a doctor for a check-up as women, and over 7 million men have not seen a doctor in over 10 years?

If you cannot remember the last time you had a complete physical, call your doctor and make an appointment. (You would not let 10 years go between oil changes, would you?)

Be More Physically Active.

June is a great time to start a healthier lifestyle by being more physically active.

Research shows exercise helps prevent heart disease and obesity, and lowers blood pressure.

Aim for 30 to 60 minutes on most days. You can even spread it out over the course of your day.

Improve the Nutritional Quality Of Your Diet.

Some tips on how to improve the nutritional quality of your diet include eating a varied diet rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains and low-fat foods.

Especially limit cholesterol intake and avoid saturated fats.

Pay Attention To Warning Signs.

When a warning light flashes on the car dashboard, most men take the car to the shop. But when warning lights flash on their body, most men do not (or will not) notice.

Examples of flashing lights to look for are changes in bowel or bladder habits, persistent backaches, recurrent chest pains, and extreme fatigue.

Men’s health issues significantly impact everyone around them, and far too many men never see a doctor unless there is something seriously wrong or a partner or spouse makes the appointment for them. Women and men should educate themselves about potential male health problems.

Whether it is your friend, brother, dad, boyfriend, spouse, or boss, show them you care about them and their health by wearing blue. Wear blue on Friday, June 17, 2016 to raise awareness about making healthy lifestyle choices, making regular annual visits to the doctor, and getting educated on heart disease or diabetes.
